

Discussion Paper call

Dear Colleague,

The Economic Geography, Regional Development and Territorial Planning Laboratory of the Department of Geography, University of the Aegean, is proudly announcing the launch of its Discussion Papers Series and would like kindly to invite you to contribute and participate in this Series publication.

The Discussion Papers Series is scheduled to be published three times a year and includes the publication of papers on EU and national research in the fields of economic geography, local/ regional development, innovation policies and territorial planning. The benefits of publishing in the Economic Geography, Regional Development and Territorial Planning Laboratory Discussion Papers Series include:

1. Fast publication times, as papers will appear online as soon as completed, in advance of print version
2. Excellent editorial standards
3. Rigorous, fast and constructive peer review process
4. Free color electronic version
5. Free on-line access to published discussion papers
6. All abstracts and full text are available free on-line to all main universities/institutions worldwide, ensuring promotion to the widest possible audience.
